broken. I parked my marked patrol car in the driveway of fire Station 7 and observed fresh tire marks driving through the front yard of the fire station coming off Gordon traveling south into a pine tree on the South boundary line. The tire tracks showed that the vehicle backed up and proceeded to pull off back onto Gordon clipping the Piedmont natural gas line as it did, resulting in approximately $1000 worth of damage.

I initiated my paperwork documenting the scene and remained in the driveway of fire station 7 located at 1116 Gordon St. While working on my report, I heard a crashing sound and looked South from my location observing a green Subaru Forrester traveling North on Gordon Street onto the shoulder of the road striking a non-breakaway Street sign. The vehicle continued North exiting the roadway nearly striking my marked patrol car, missing by inches, then proceeding North striking a 2nd non-breakaway Street sign before coming to rest in a ditch on the east side of Five Points Pl. hundred yards north of fire station 7. I initiated contact with the driver to check on her welfare and located a white female in the driver seat and no other passengers in the vehicle. As I approached and spoke with the driver I noticed a distinct odor of an alcoholic beverage emanating from the driver's body and breath.

The driver identified herself as Susan K Rothermel, and stated that she had just left her house in Jamestown, went to the store, and now was returning home. Rothermel related that she traveled the route to and from the store and was unaware of what had just occurred. I informed Rothermel that she had struck 2 Non-breakaway Street signs went through an embankment and ending up in the ditch. Rothermel appeared disorientated and I continued to smell the strong odor of alcohol emanating from her body and breath. I contacted communications advised them of the 2nd traffic accident and requested EMS to respond to check Rothermel for injuries. EMS responded to the scene and Rothermel signed a waiver stating that she was fine and needed no medical assistance.

After EMS examined Rothermel I initiated my driving while impaired investigation.

While speaking to Rothermel she was observed to have a moderate odor of an alcoholic beverage coming from her. Rothermel was also observed to have:

- Trouble exiting her vehicle
- Slow and lethargic movements
- The need for support to maintain her balance when asked, Rothermel agreed to submit to a series of field sobriety tests.

Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus Test

Prior to beginning the test it was determined Rothermel was wearing contacts. Rothermel's eyes were checked and her eyes displayed equal tracking and her pupils were equal sizes. Rothermel was instructed to following the stimulus with her eyes only, keeping her head still. After stating she understood the instructions Rothermel attempted this test.

After attempting the test it was determined that Rothermel could not perform the test.

While attempting the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus test, it was observed that Rothermel:

- Had difficulty following and responding to instructions.
- Moved her head from side to side during the test.
- Swayed while standing.
- The instructions for the test had to be repeated before Rothermel would respond

Walk and Turn Test

Prior to attempting this test, Rothermel indicated she did not have any medical problems that would have prevented her from performing the test. Rothermel was instructed to put her left foot on the line and her right foot in front of it with her right heel touching the toe of her left foot. She was instructed to stand in this manner with her hands to his sides until the test instructions were completed and the test demonstrated. Rothermel was instructed not to begin the test until told to start. She was instructed to take nine steps along the line in a heel-to-toe manner. After the ninth step she was to stop and turn around keeping her lead foot on the ground, taking several small steps with the other foot to turn around. After turning around she was to take nine steps in a heel-to-toe manner back along the line, in the direction she had come from. Rothermel was further instructed to watch her feet at all times while walking, keep her arms down to his side, and to count her steps out loud. After the test was demonstrated Rothermel stated she understood the instructions and was instructed to begin the test.

After attempting the test it was determined that Rothermel could not perform the test.

One Leg Stand Test

Prior to attempting this test, Rothermel indicated she did not have any medical problems that would have prevented her from performing the test. Rothermel was instructed to stand with her heels together and hands down to her sides while the instructions were given and during the test. Rothermel was instructed not to begin the test until she was instructed to start, and after the test had been demonstrated. When instructed to start, she was to raise the foot of her choice off the ground approximately 6 inches. While her leg was raised she was to keep her leg straight, watch her raised foot, and to count out loud by thousands (one thousand one, one thousand two, one thousand three...) and to continue the test until told to stop (30 seconds). After this test was demonstrated and indicating she understood the instructions Rothermel attempted this test.

After attempting the test it was determined that Rothermel could not perform the test.

Based on my observations I advised Rothermel that she was under arrest for driving while impaired, I introduced her to Officer Stephen Finn who had her give two-breath samples on an Alco Sensor after she stated she had no alcohol to drink the Alco Sensor showed a positive reading for alcohol. I transported Rothermel to the High Point Police Department where she was administered a breathalyzer test by Officer T. Mills which had a BAC reading of .16.

While investigating the traffic accident I observed fresh damage to the left rear corner of Rothermel's vehicle. Crime lab came out and photograph the scene, took measurements and compared the damage located on the left rear corner panel to the Piedmont natural gas line and determined that this vehicle was the hit-and-run vehicle. See supplemental report by crime lab technician D Parrott.

Rothermel was charged with driving while impaired and misdemeanor hit-and-run. Rothermel was released into the custody of her husband.
