N A R R A T I V E	On 08/29/2014 at 10:32 p.m I initiated a traffic stop on a 2003 Pontiac Grand Am due to the vehicle having an insurance stop. I initiated my red and blue lights signaling the vehicle to pull over. Before I exited my patrol vehicle, the driver turned all of the lights and the vehicle's ignition off. Upon my approach, I noticed how nervous the driver was. He continuously watched me approach from his driver's side mirror and would also turn his head and glance at me over his shoulder through the rear passenger window. Once I reached the driver`s side door, I introduced myself and asked him for his driver`s license and registration to the vehicle. I noticed that the driver was very nervous and began to shake continuously and breath rapidly. He handed me his license and stated that that he did not know what the registration to the vehicle looked like or where it was. As I explained to him the document he needed to produce, he continued to shake, and breath heavily, he started sweating profusely and made very quick movements as if he was in a hurry. Due to his behaviors, and with the guidance of my FTO PSO Huffman, I asked Harbison to step out of the vehicle.

Through my training in Basic Law Enforcement Training, partnered with my FTO`s training and experience, I had reasonable suspicion that other criminal activity was going on. I began speaking with Harbison asking hi where he was coming from. He stated that he had come from 721 E. Union St. My FTO had advised me that was a known drug house, and she had made or accompanied several drug arrests from people leaving the house. PSO Huffman then utilized her K9 partner Shrek to conduct a vehicle sniff. PSO Huffman advised the K9 gave a positive alert and indication on the exterior and interior of the vehicle. Upon a search of the vehicle, a glass pipe was located. From PSO Huffman`s past drug investigations, she knew the pipe to be a way to induce narcotics, particularly crack cocaine into their system. I issued a citation to Harbison for no insurance, and possession of drug paraphernalia. I released Harbison back to his vehicle.

I entered the crack pipe into evidence under the tag # 21278 and voucher ID 4298
